Neglect not the gift that is in thee . . .
O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings . . .
I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God . . .
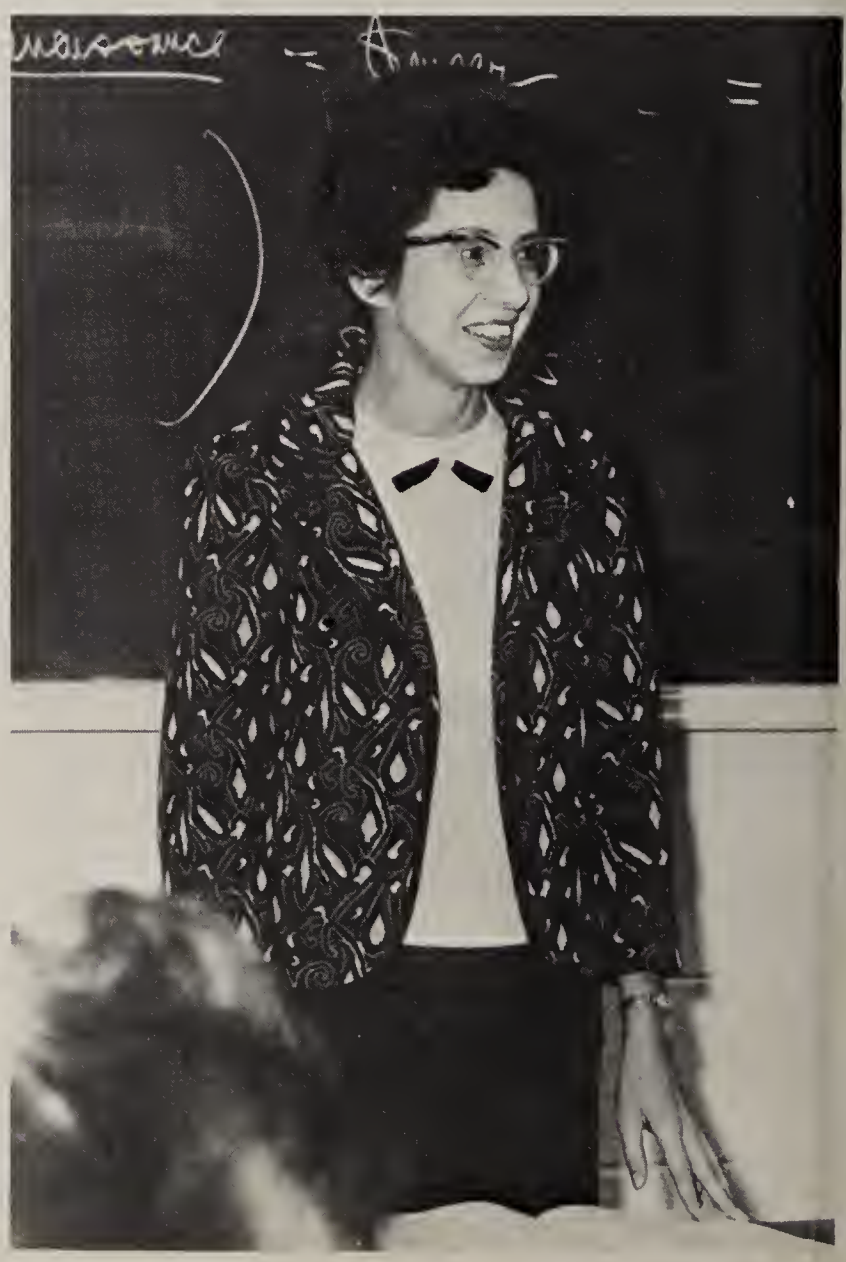
For God hath not given us the spirit of fear;
But of power, and of love, and of a sound mind . . .
I am not ashamed;
For I know whom I have believed,
And am persuaded that he is able
To keep that which I have committed
Unto him against that day . . .
Strive not about words to no profit . . .
Foolish and unlearned questions avoid . . .
But be gentle unto all men,
Apt to teach, patient,
In meekness instructing
Those that oppose themselves.

Grace be with you.

Amen.

I and II Timothy

B.S. in Ed., A.B., Marion College; A.M., University of Wisconsin; Ph.D., University of Chicago; professor of English, Marion College, 1945-46, 1949-61, 1963-71; head of English department, Marion College, 1967-71.



She has been generous to us and has handled our pretenses, our bluffs and absurdities gently.

She has valued us and taught us greater things to value.

And we have turned then back to ourselves, and seen a greater need for laughter than for bluff;

To others, and seen a greater need for awe than scorn;

And to God, and thanked Him for her gift.

ACADEMICS

Marion College this year faces several critical problems each of which could aptly be called a turn in the road.

One of these is the student concept of a Christian College. The founders, present alumni, and supporting church have had traditional concepts of a Christian college. Within the new generation of students many of these concepts are challenged. Out of it some may lead to more effective service. But we must also be aware of blind alleys or tangent ways that may dilute our institutional Christian testimony.

During the year studies and steps must be taken to establish fiscal policies and practices that will provide at the same time annual balanced budgets and continuing opportunities for growth of the college. A wrong turn here would have harmful effects.

This is also the year of reexamination for regional accrediation. To make provision for instructional improvement is a vital part of the college program. Such improvement needs to enhance the college purposes.

Truly our paths provide many opportunities to turn aside but we must be prepared both as individuals and as an institution to make the right turn to achieve progress toward our goals.

ALBUM

The "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" recognition, a national honor roll of distinctive collegians, is awarded to those students who have excelled in both academic and extra-curricular activities.

Your hearts know in silence the secrets of the days and the nights.
But your ears thirst for the sound of your heart's knowledge.
You would know in words that which you have always known in thought.

The end of learning is to know God,
and out of that knowledge to love him.

—Milton

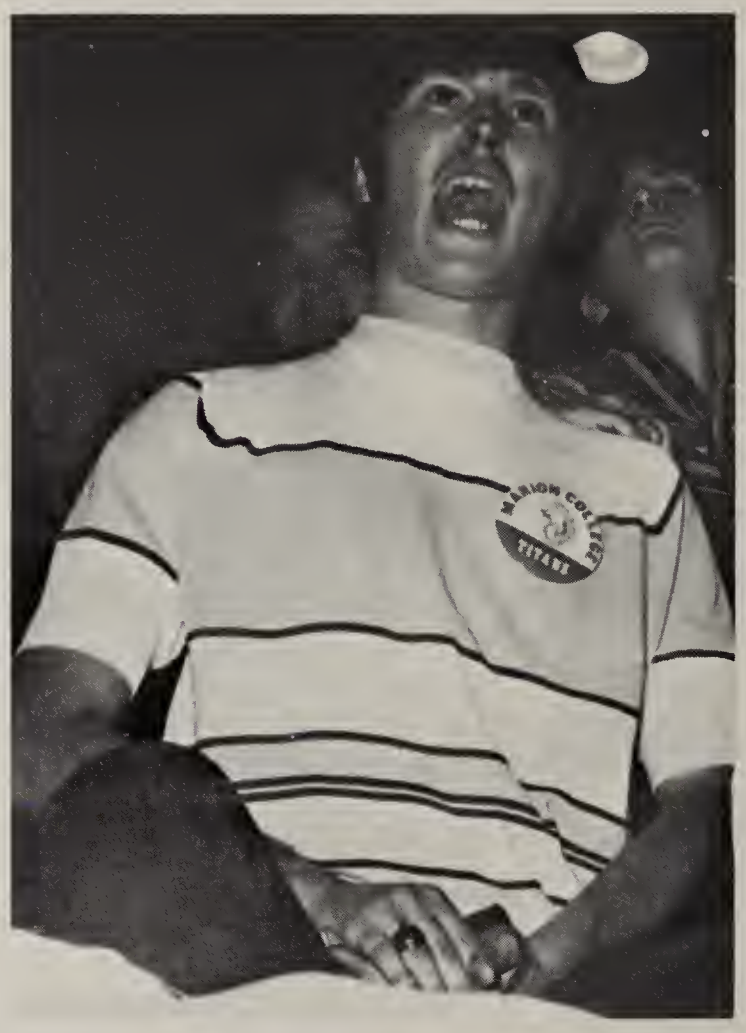
Sophomores



A unique group of students emerged as the class of '73. They built as varied an image for themselves as apples on a shelf. Whether parading, crusading, laughing, protesting, working, leading, following, or just relaxing, sophomores were anything but "just another class."

ACTIVITIES

Organization,

led by President Ron Batman, was alive in 1970-71, and kicking hard.

No one on campus during the fall of '70 and spring of '71 would have questioned MCSGO's vitality, or denied that it had traveled far from the traditional silent, honorary organization of a very few years earlier.

Nerve; a sense of humor and drama; impulsiveness; or again, planned action; headaches; a deep desire for spiritually intellectually and socially constructive progress; demands; tact, and moderation characterized the group's work.

MCSGO Executive Committee, Dale Basham, Larry Minner, Bob Tippey, Ron Batman, Bruce Baker, and Bob Thyer, led as the group's planning and appointing body.

A question is raised on the floor . . .

Grattan Freyer, Irish critic and journalist, will speak on campus, November 16-17, as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer. He will present four programs.

Irish journalist to lecture on campus from Nov. 16-17

Mr. Grattan Freyer, Irish critic and journalist, will be on campus on November 16-17, 1970 as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer.

The visiting lecturers program under which Mr. Freyer comes here was initiated in 1957 by the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges, and is supported by a grant from the Danforth Foundation. Its purpose is to assist colleges in their efforts to strengthen liberal education. Each year several people of outstanding intellectual stature from this country and abroad are made available to colleges and universities. They remain on campus for two days or a week.

After graduating from Cambridge University with Honors in Science and English, Mr. Freyer studied language and took a Ph. D. at Dublin with a thesis on 'The Reputation of Machiavelli.' He then spent several years in adult education, including work during the last war in England with the Army Bureau of Current Affairs.

For the last sixteen years he has combined farming, potting, and horse-breeding in the West of Ireland with free-lance writing and lecturing. He has traveled extensively, visiting France, Italy, Germany, Russia, Spain, and North Africa. He interviewed Albert Camus in 1949.

All of the recent trouble spots in Northern Ireland were visited by Mr. Freyer, and interviews with leaders on all sides were tape-recorded.

Mr. Freyer's current lecture tour is his seventh to the United States. In the spring of 1969 he gave a Quincentenary lecture on 'The Relevance of Machiavelli' in the Albert Schweitzer series at New York University. Previously he lectured at many other colleges and universities, at Lisbon and Coimbra in Portugal, and in Rome, Bologna and Milan, Italy. He has also lectured in Dublin and at the Yeats International Summer School in Sligo. This is his second tour as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer.

He has contributed to innumerable periodicals on such topics as 'The Ideas of Machiavelli' (Scrutiny), 'The Reputation of Machiavelli' (Hermathena), 'The Politics of W.B. Yeats' (Politics and Letters), 'James Joyce: The Man Behind the Mask' (La Stagione), 'The Novels of Albert Camus' (Envoy), 'Retrospect of O'Faeolain' (The New Republic) and 'Patrick Kavanaugh' (Eire/Ireland).

Mr. Freyer writes regularly for the book page of the Irish Times, Hibernia, The Guardian and The Economist. He wrote 'The Irish Contribution' for Volume 7 of the Pelican Guide to TUESDAY-FRIDAY-- Missionary Convention, College Church, 7:00 pm.

THURSDAY Forensics 5:00

Are you really involved in campus activities?

Soccer fans! You cannot help but notice the additional seating space on the sidelines of our home field. This space was donated by the Circle K Club, a service organization for college men sponsored by Kiwanis. The basic goal of this club, is to develop the leadership qualities of the men on this campus. Circle K was new to Marion College last year and in March they received their charter. Within the next week or so, a member will be elected to take the place of last year's president, Mike Troyer. Circle K hopes to sponsor a folk concert or a series of lectures on current social and economic concerns. The members meet on Tuesday nights at 9:30 in the Conference Room of the student center.

Meeting on the second Monday of each month in Baldwin Food Center, is the women's Christian organization of this campus. Suzanne Hughes is the president of Lambda Epsilon for this school year. Presently, the girls are visiting the Emily Flynn Home, a nursing home situation in Marion, and do various requests, such as; writing letters for the elderly people there. Lambda Epsilon was started on our campus a year ago. This Spring they are planning an international day.

A great honor for a student majoring in science, is being elected into Sigma Zeta, a national honorary science society. The Marion College Alpha Epsilon Chapter was started in the Spring of 1969 and currently, Ron Wolf is the president. A student must have an academic average of a 3 point in science in order to become eligible for consideration for membership by the club and science faculty members. Plans are now being made to initiate newly-elected members. Sigma Zeta attempts to promote scientific excellence in academic achievement.

Students who are sincerely interested in biology may join the Bio Club, which will be meeting on Nov. 17 at 5:30 in the Gold Room of Baldwin Food Center. Donald Clapp, involved with computer electronics, will be the guest speaker. The purpose of the Bio Club is mainly to supplement class information. Dale Craker leads this club as president and serving under Dale is Francis Mustapha as vice-president.

The Student Ministerial Association meets within the framework of the Practicum Seminar class in McConn Chapel on one Tuesday or Thursday of each month. Dr. Sheets is the advisor to this organization, which is open to theology and religion majors. Serving as the president of SMA for this year is Stan Hoover. This organization is seeking to unite the ministerial students together for better service in the field of religion.

Walter Adams is the president of the Student Missionary Fellowship. On the first and third Tuesday of each month, business meetings are held in Baldwin Food Center. The remaining two Tuesday evening meetings are prayer cells. SMF is endeavoring to create a widespread concern for world missions, but their concern does not stop with world missions. They are trying to witness to the mission field that surrounds us every day. A warm welcome is extended to all students and SMF encourages you to attend the Missionary Convention that will be held in College Church this week.

Future teachers should be members of our Student Education Association, if they are planning to teach on eith a primary or secondary high school level. This organization attempts to better prepare students for the teaching profession. In their meetings, speakers acquaint club members with current teaching methods in the different school systems. This Tuesday night in Ft. Wayne, drugs, alcoholism, sex, and other problems which face teachers will be discussed at a convention. Several of the SEA members will be attending. At present, SEA has not set a definite meeting time. Helen Lovelace is the president.

One of the most vital organizations to the spiritual life of our campus is Student Conference. This is our college prayer meeting every Thursday night. Brad Snyder, president, leads many dedicated, Christian students as they pray for revival of the Holy Spirit on the students and faculty of Marion College.

Julian Bond, member of the Georgia House of Representatives, will speak at Marion High School, Sat., Nov. 14.

Work involved in Homecoming

All the decorations will come down and all the floats will be dismantled shortly. The excitement and enthusiasm of Homecoming will become a memory.

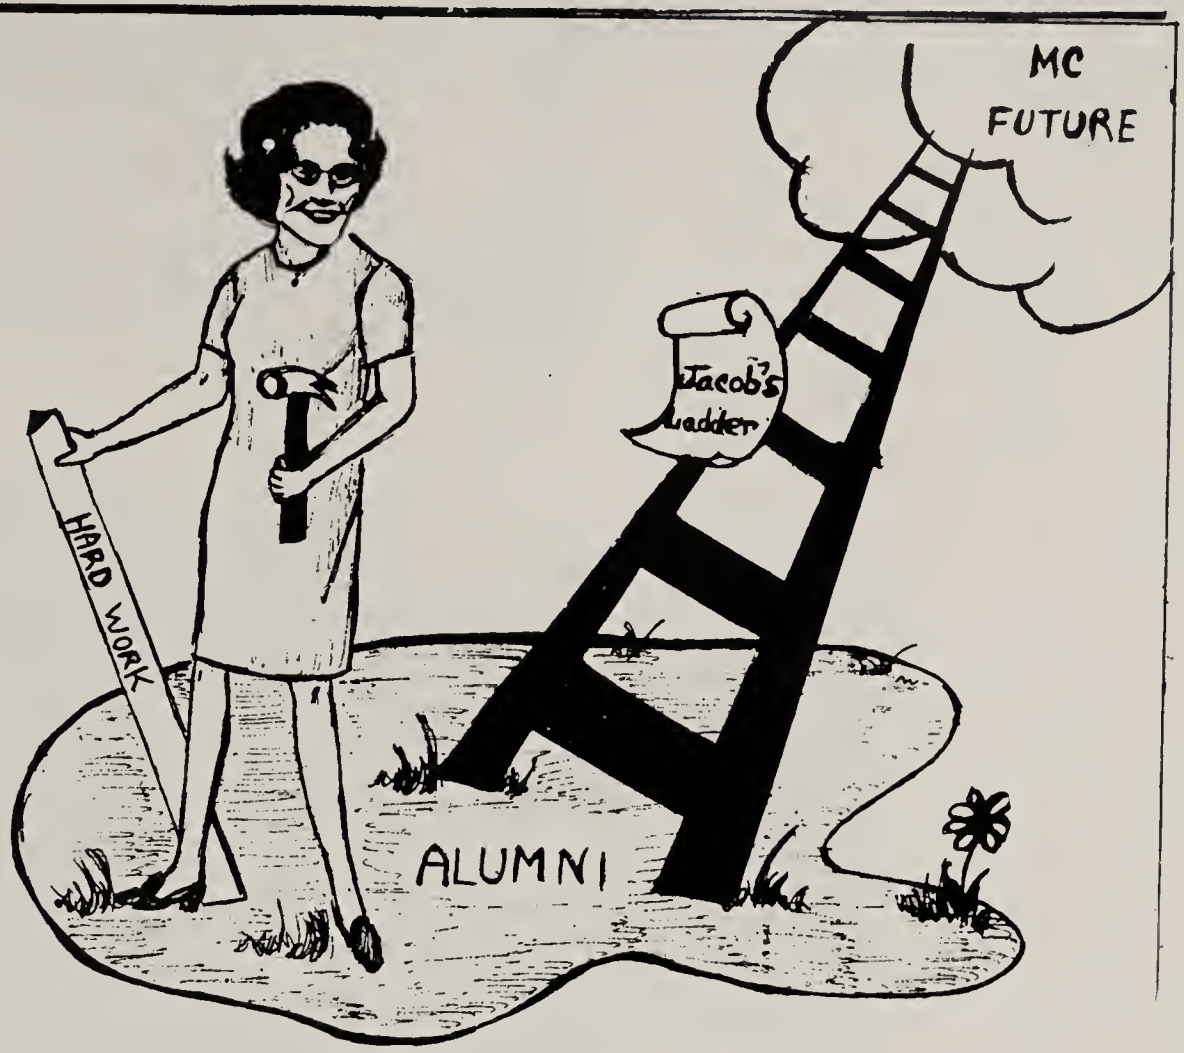
Many times we overlook the hard work that goes into making something like this weekend a great success. Students, faculty, administration, and alumni worked together to make this possible. All deserve a great deal of praise.

Two people, especially, have made outstanding contributions to a successful Homecoming. One is Millie Jacobs -- ever persistent, never discouraged. She always seems to be at the right place at the right time, giving words of encouragement and direction. Her dedication and loyalty to Marion College is genuine, sincere, and enduring. She is a ladder in and of herself, bridging the past to the future -- what MC now is to what it shall be.

Ron Batman has also given much time and labor for Homecoming. The Queen's Contest and Coronation, as well as many of Saturday's activities, were sponsored by MCSGO.

Yet it wasn't Millie or Ron that made Homecoming successful. Many people were working with the Alumni Association and MCSGO. The Titan soccer team made preparation for the game. Others were decorating dorms or floats till early morning hours.

Somehow, around Homecoming time, one gets the feeling that the issues that divide our campus are not as deep as they might appear; that a glimpse of optimism is warranted; that bridges of understanding between students, faculty, administration, and alumni are being built. Perhaps this is the real success of Homecoming.



Jacob's Ladder -- Bridge to the future

Voluntary class attendance urged

A letter was approved by the Senate last Thursday to be sent to the Educational Policies Committee. This letter stated the request for all students having a G. P. A. of 3.0 or better to be free of compulsory class attendance. We feel that this reflects the opinion of the Student Body.

The college's stand on class attendance has seemed "muddy" to some in the past years. We believe the college supports compulsory

Campus Reporter

The men of Williams 'decorated' for Homecoming by painting the inside of the dormitory. The school furnished the paint and the guys furnished the labor. The idea, according to Jim Thornton, head resident, came from Mark Klatt.

The M. L. Goodman Lectures, formerly presented at Owosso College will be given by Dr. Arthur M. Climenhagen, at Marion, Tuesday through Friday of next week.

Millie Jacobs, Alumni Executive Director, has been named to appear in "Who's Who of American Women."

Franklin Lusk passed the last portion of his qualifying examination in a doctor of music program at Indiana University. He now has a paper to write, a doctoral concert to perform, and the final oral examination as the major remaining hurdles in the doctoral program.

In contrast to the past, dormitory students are now in the majority. There are 446 resident students and 423 commuters. Total enrollment increased from 850 last fall to 869 this semester; however, there are 54 more full-time students this semester than last fall.

The new bleachers for the soccer field come through the efforts of the Circle K Club.

Girl's Basketball Team

Intramural Volleyball Provides Good Competition

The intramural football championship was won for the second year in a row by William's 2nd North. Although some of the players were new, the same team spirit was there. Their speed accounted for much of their success. As you can see, we had troubles keeping them still for the picture.

Intramural Football

Intramural Basketball

Not pictured are the volleyball champions, Commuter B. The players consist of John Hermann, John Powell, Ray Hunt, Doug Rickard, Steve Packer, Don Pettiford, Bob Wilkerson, and Stan Rickard. These players worked hard to be the only undefeated team and capture the championship. Congratulations!!
